“ Papa was a good man, down to the core. I'll cherish what we had and what I still have. He may be physically gone but spiritually still here. I'll continue to cook as good as you because I paid good attention to the times we spent over night smoking on that grill. I'll continue to hold my tongue right when fishing cause that's how you catch them all. I'll even continue to throw my fishing pole when I miss a big fish and throw my tools when I'm ticked off at em. I'll continue to cherish and show Ol'Red off to everyone and she'll always be taken care of to all extents I'm able because she is the embodiment of all you were. Built strong, persistent, and sometimes stubborn. I'll drive your truck. I'll miss you Papa and I love you.

“ His kind, caring, loving heart, made an impression on me that I will forever remember. His soul was beautiful. I knew this from our first meeting. He will have a fine reward in Heaven, of this I'm sure of. It's sorrowful to hear of your home going but joyously happy to know that you were no longer suffering and you were receiving your numerous rewards. You will be missed for now but for us other believers, we shall meet again! 🙏

“ My Uncle John won my heart early on because he always called me Deb. I loved that so much, because I did not like to be called Debra Ann. He was always laughing and happy, I loved that about him too. His smile and laughter was contagious!! It made every one's day! He always took the time to ask me “Deb how are you doing”! oh, how I loved that! He was one of those people that made every thing better simply by his presence!
I love you Uncle John and I will miss You, until I see you again in Glory!!

He had a friend Lue and they grilled Boston Butts to sell To raise money for a friend that had cancer .. He love his family and his garden ,also loved to fish. He was always ready to lend a helping hand We couldn't visit when He was sick , broke my heart , but I am celebrating him being with Jesus.
